

DiMe Journal Club features Critical Path for Parkinson's 3DT initiative

The graphic features the DiMe logo in the top right corner. On the left, it says "Virtual Journal club" with a play button icon and a speech bubble that says "Ask me anything". In the center, there is an illustration of a person sitting in a red chair talking to a large screen displaying a play button, with another person standing next to it. Below this, the text reads "Listen up! Using digital tools when designing patient-centric clinical trials" and "January 11th, 2022 11a ET". On the right side, there are four circular headshots of speakers, each with their name and title below them.

DiMe

Virtual Journal club

Ask me anything

Listen up! Using digital tools when designing patient-centric clinical trials

January 11th, 2022 11a ET

Cindy Zadikoff, MD
Medical Director, CPP Industry
Co-Director
Abbvie

Martijn Müller, PhD
Senior Scientific Director
Critical Path Institute

Mark Frasier, MD
Chief Science Officer, Research
Programs
Michael J. Fox Foundation

Johan Hellsten, PhD
Senior Specialist in Patient
Insights
Lundbeck

Join 3DT and DiMe Society, January 11, to hear about 3DT recommendations for patient engagement.

C-Path's Critical Path for Parkinson's is excited to announce that on Tuesday, January 11 (11 a.m. ET), the Digital Medicine Society's Virtual Journal Club will feature key findings and answer questions on 3DT's (Digital Drug Development Tools) recommendations for involving people with Parkinson's in clinical studies using digital health tools.

DiMe Members can join the event here.

View a pdf of CPP's Initiative here.